

What Should I already know?

People lived before my grandparents were born.

How to use the words: before, after, past, present and future mean.

That artefacts and historical items can help us to find out about the past.

Household Items throughout history

Bed Warming pan

Used to heat beds before people had central heating in their bedrooms and houses.

Wash Dolly

Used to help wash clothing before people had washing machines in their house.

Chamber Pot

Stopped people from having to use the outdoor toilet at night time.

Tin Bath

Could be moved near the fire to help keep the water warm.

What will I do?

Learn that Lapford has a long history that stretched back far beyond living memory.

Learn the key features and building materials of different types of houses through history.

Examine, observe and sketch different types of houses around Lapford.

Handle different household items and artefacts. Use them to explore how houses have changed throughout history.

Use the words before and after to describe different houses and time periods.

Chronology

Long ago in the past

Houses were built for thousands of years but most are now ruins.

Long Ago in the past

Tudor Houses

Key Features:

Thatched roof.

Wooden beams.

The past

Georgian Houses

Key Features:

Large Sash Windows.

Made of bricks and slate.

The past

Victorian Houses

Key Features:

Bay windows

High roofed.

The past

Terraced Houses

Key Features:

Attached to each other.

The present. Now.

Modern detached house

Key Features:

Garage

Double Glazing

The future.

Different types of houses will be built.

Question 1:

Can you use a straight line to link the picture of the house to the time that describes it?

The Present.

The Past

Long ago in the past

Question 2: Is a Victorian house built before or after a Tudor house?

Question 3: Can you name two items which people used to have in their houses that we don't use any more?

Question 4: What is your favourite type of house? Can you tell me a feature of it?

My favourite type of house is a

One feature of it is
